

Describe a normal day in your life in specific detail 10 years from today. Write at least one full page single space. Format as a basic word doc, print and keep to use as a jump-off point for our first project starting next Tuesday, 08.29. Refer to the Debbie Millman audio link posted on twitter @ twitter.com/jarredderraj for a refresher on the prompt.

NOTE:

Even though you won't expected to share this with me or classmates, please take this seriously and spend a generous amount of time thinking about this and thoughtfully writing over the next 5 days! The more sincerely you write, the easier time you will have developing impactful content for the first project.
